PARTICIPANT WAIVER

The International Programs Office of KoGuan Law School (KoGuan IPO) offers a cultural exchange program known as the “KoGuan Language Exchange Program,” whereby KoGuan law students and/or members of the community are connected with other KoGuan law students and/or members of the community for the purpose of practicing language skills. KoGuan IPO only acts to facilitate contact between prospective participants and makes no representations concerning the quality of the participating students, community members or the program itself. KoGuan Law School does not accept any responsibility for personal injuries, damages or loss caused or sustained by participants in this program.

Participation in this program is strictly voluntary. Students and community members who choose to participate in this program are expected to exercise good judgment while participating. No participant should participate in any activity that makes them feel uncomfortable and should secure personal items before beginning the activity. LEP program participants are responsible for arranging meetings. LEP meetings must take place on SJTU's campus. This is to ensure both safety and convenience. Participants should notify the program coordinator immediately if they have concerns.

By signing below, you confirm that you have read and understood this page and that you agree to conduct your participation in this program in accordance with this liability statement and, further, that you agree to comply with all applicable policies and procedures connected with the “KoGuan Language Exchange Program.” If you do not agree with the terms as specified above, please do not sign this document. If you do not agree to the terms specified above, you will not be eligible to participate in this program.

If you are submitting this form electronically, the typing of your name in the space below will constitute your signature and your agreement to participate according to the terms above. It will also give permission to the Language Exchange Coordinator to share your email address with other Language Exchange Program participants.

Please note: KoGuan IPO is not always able to make a successful match. Applications remain active until the end of the academic semester in which they were submitted (those submitted within one month of exams will be retained for the following semester).
